Geffrye Museum Restaurant

A delicious balance of traditional and modern English dishes served in a unique setting overlooking the period garden rooms.

The Geffrye's restaurant is located in the museum's contemporary wing, and provides a delightful space for lunch or light snacks. Although quite spacious it is still necessary for all groups wishing to use the restaurant to book in advance. This will enable us to ensure that your visit is a relaxed and enjoyable one.

Please note that we do not allow packed lunches in the museum.
